1. ANGELA'S WORLD . . . AND HER RESPONSE

Both Church and Society in Angela's time seemed beyond repair. How does Angela respond? What wisdom can she offer us today about how to respond to the crises of our own world in ways that make a positive difference? Like Angela in her time, how are we called to be agents of positive transformation and renewal for the Church today?

2. THE (VERY HUMAN) COMPANY THAT ANGELA BEGAN: ITS HOPES, CHALLENGES, DISAPPOINTMENTS . . . AND . . . GRACES

This conference explores Angela's devotion to early Christian women martyrs, her choice for St. Ursula as the patron of her Company, and her instructions on how to form Christian community, what works and what doesn't. The struggles that the Company of St. Ursula had after Angela's death are particularly informative, reminding us that community is pilgrimage, process, goal, and that we must embrace all the disciplines of love in order to achieve it.
